A black and white photograph of a two-story brick school building. The building has a flat roof and a prominent entrance with a dark overhang. Above the entrance, the words "ADAMS CENTRAL SCHOOL" are written in large, light-colored capital letters. There are two square windows on the second floor and three sets of double glass doors on the ground floor. A paved walkway leads to the entrance, flanked by some bushes. The sky is overcast.

How Did Central

Just how would CENTRAL MAKE OUR DAY? This was one of the many questions that entered our minds as the new school year started on August 23, 1984. Things were going to be different from the past years. The new "Time On Task" rule stopped clubs from meeting during the school day. Also pep sessions couldn't be held. Homeroom was even changed to Supervised Study.

The students acknowledged the changes and took them in stride. Everyone knew we were in for a long rough year.

No one knew exactly what the year held for each of us. Would the football team only go 5-5? Would the basketball team better their record from the previous year? Would any of the wrestlers make it to State? We all wondered what the class of '85 would achieve to put their names on the books.

The school anticipated the North Central evaluation. Hopefully all the hard work and effort would pay off in the end.

As we entered the doors on the first day of school, we were all able to say ... C'MON ON CENTRAL MAKE MY DAY.

Besides being active with regular school work, the students at AC participated in many happenings outside of the school.

Some were a part of the 4-H club and exhibited their projects in the summer at the 4-H Fair. Also, a large portion of the high school held down a part-time job. With more fast-food restaurants than ever before, people worked at Wendy's, McDonald's, D.Q., and Hardee's. Others were employed at one of the three pizza places. Some even worked in department stores while others worked in grocery stores as a cashier or a stock boy. JA was also import in many students' schedules. It helped them to better understand the aspects of business.

Of course, part of most teenagers' schedules included "hanging out" in Decatur or where ever. In the summer they could be seen at the Drive-In, McDonald's parking lot or just cruisin' around. During the school year they could once again be spotted cruisin' around town.

By participating and by taking an active part in the community ... CENTRAL MAKES EVERYONE'S DAY.

All of the activities the students were a part of helped to make everyone's day. Starting in the beginning of the year with Homecoming Week, the excitement never ended as the whole school psyched up for the homecoming game. The Sunshine Banquet held "precious moments" for all of these couples who attended and helped to make it a success. The choir department presented the annual Madrigal at Christmas time and then the spring musical, Seven Brides for Seven Brothers. The Drama Club also kept busy with four different plays they performed throughout the year. Late in the year the excitement climaxed as the juniors and seniors prepared for the prom at Quixote Hills. The year finally drew to a quick close. For the seniors who enjoyed the annual Comp. picnic and the annual class picnic at Pine Lake, the time had come for them to leave, but they would always remember how ... CENTRAL MADE THEIR DAY.

Juniors Capture Powder Puff Title

Kara Isch attacks Kim Achleman and stops her for a short gain.

The 1984 Homecoming Week was very successful and was filled with a lot of craziness. The theme, "Jets are Raider Busters," was in just about everyone's minds throughout the week.

Powder Puff Football was the main Homecoming activity. In the first round, the Juniors beat the Freshmen, while the Sophomores won over the defending Seniors. In the final game, the Juniors came out on top, capturing the championship title.

Other Homecoming Activities included the tug-of-war, worm race, frogman relay, belching contest, bat race, and the banner contest. The Seniors won the overall competition.

Homecoming: Full Of Memories

This year's annual Homecoming Week was definitely a big success. All of the events brought great excitement and school spirit to all. The great thrill came Friday night when the queen candidates were escorted on to the field and Amy Adams was crowned the 1984-85 Homecoming Queen. Candidates were nominated by the Senior class and the queen was elected by the high school student body.

To make the night a bigger success the Jets came out with a great victory over the Southern Wells Raiders in a high-action game, 34-0. At halftime the band put on a tremendous performance and the class banners were presented. The Seniors were recognized for having the best banner.

To top off the night the student council held a dance featuring "Mistaken Identity," who delivered many favorite tunes. Homecoming was one week that will always be remembered by those who participated.

"Precious Moments" was the theme selected for the 1984 Sunshine Banquet which was held on November 10th.

The evening started off at 5:00 p.m. with Dave Cole taking pictures. Immediately after pictures were taken, the Palmer House catered the delicious dinner which consisted of baked ham, baked potato, green beans, relish, tossed salad, hot roll, assorted pie, and ice cream with a choice of strawberry punch, milk, or coffee.

Following the dinner, the couples gathered in the elementary gym for the entertainment which was provided by a comedian.

The Sunshine girls and their dates then went back to the cafeteria to finish the evening with a dance.

Campus Life Busy Bodies

Tim Atkins expresses his humor, from watching Krissy Schwaller play Charades.

Campus Life began the year with the annual Burger Bash. As in previous years the meetings were held every Tuesday night in various homes. This was the third year of Campus Life at Adams Central with Tim Atkins being the leader of the pack.

Some of the activities of the year included the Burger Bash, War Games, a hayride and the dating game. At each meeting there was a different topic to discuss. Among these were suicide, dating, peer pressure, and relationships.

As for the main event of the year, which was the Campus Life Florida trip to Ft. Lauderdale. It turned out to be a great success with 70 students (12 from Adams Central).

Madrigal Pulls Together For Another Big Success

The seventh annual madrigal feast was another big success with the dinner consisting of salad, onion soup, roast beef, baked potato, California blend, and fruit dessert.

These acappella singers performed just before Christmas vacation at the Lehman Park Pavillion. Members of the madrigal were as follows: King — Kent Brown, Queen — Jenny Liby, Doug Kelley, Kara Isch, Daryl Johnson, Michelle Atkinson, Tony Gerber, Jennifer Call, Chris Liby, and Mary Caudle.

They received a first place rating at district solo and ensemble contest and went on to state contest in Indianapolis at Butler University. There they received a first, also. As sort of an annual celebration they then traveled to the Hyatt Regency for a delicious meal.

Musical Big Success

"Seven Brides for Seven Brothers" was the title of the annual musical, which was presented by the Choral department. The main leads were brothers Adam — Sam Lengerich, Benjamin — Jim Collins, Caleb — Kerry Girod, Daniel — Tony Gerber, Ephram — Chris Liby, Frank — Mark Cook, and Gideon — Daryl Johnson. The Brides were Milly — Mary Caudle, Alice — Jenny Liby, Sarah — Deanna Lehman, Martha — Luara Rich, Liza — Michele Speakman, Ruth — Lisa Garner, and Dorcas — Michelle Atkinson.

During the plot of the play the brothers kidnapped the girls hoping that they would marry them, but they forgot to kidnap the preacher so that he could marry them. By the end of the play the brides' parents went up to the Pontipee house and made the girls marry the brothers, because they didn't know who was the mother of the baby.

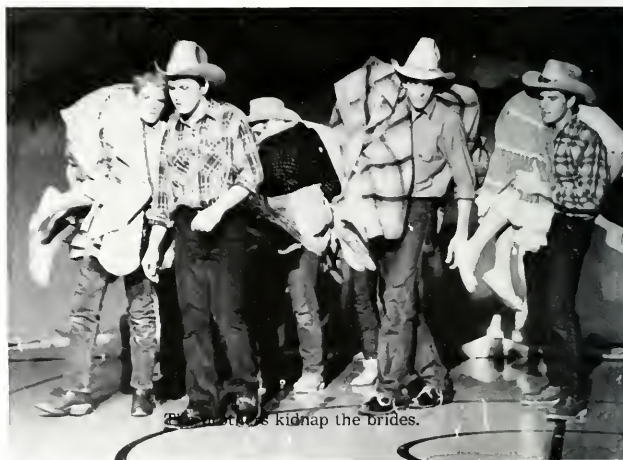

Rehearsals for the cast to prepare for the musical lasted about 6 weeks; then a week before it was to be performed they had to move all of their props and finish building their stage equipment in the PE Gym. Nearly all three performances were sellouts.

Almost Paradise

The 1985 Junior-Senior Prom was held at Quixote Hills. The theme for the evening was "Almost Paradise."

The evening began with pictures by Brad Affolder followed by dinner which was catered by Hall's Restaurant. The menu consisted of roast beef in mushroom sauce, sweet corn, baked potato, tossed salad, rolls, and assorted pies.

Chosen by the Senior Class to be on the court were Amy Adams, Kim Biery, Julie Fawcett, Tonya Hirschy, Jenny Liby, Chad Everett, Pat Feasel, Gregg Ford, Rod Hamilton, and Brian Steinke. Crowned king and queen were Chad Everett and Jenny Liby.

Top Students Honored

The sixth annual Adams Central Scholarship Foundation's Awards Night was a big success this year. Approximately 200 people attended to see high school students honored for academic excellence.

The evening began with the departmental awards. The teachers gave certificates to the top students in their classes. Next the top ten students from each class were honored. After this the special awards were given out. These awards included such things as attendance, Elk's Teenagers of the Month, and the DAR Good Citizen. Following the special awards were the scholarship presentations. At this time all the seniors who had received scholarships were recognized. The Adams Central Scholarship Foundation winners were also announced. The winners included Amy Adams, Tammy Arnold, Penny Beer, Julie Fawcett, Chris Frauhiger, Carol Heimann, Tonya Hirschy, Robin Roe, Kim Schmutz, and Chelle Tricker. Each of these seniors received $400 to help pay for their college expenses. After the scholarships were presented the Teacher of the Year was announced. This year's winner was Iona Ampsbaugh who has taught at A.C. for nine years. To finish the awards ceremony, the National Honor Society inducted nineteen new members.

After all the awards presentations, cookies and punch were served to end an enjoyable night for everyone who attended.

Sunshine Honors Seniors

The Sunshine Senior breakfast started with everyone eating the doughnuts and juice that were provided. Next, the outstanding Sunshiners were announced. For the sophomore class Kim Fuelling was chosen and for the junior class Lyn Moser was selected. Jenny Liby received the outstanding circle leader award as well as senior outstanding Sunshiner. Roqy Sprunger also received an award for being a circle leader. After the awards were presented, each of the senior girls went up and told everyone what their plans were. Then Mrs. Gilbert and Mrs. Longen-berger presented them with yellow roses.

After the roses were handed out, the circle of friendship was formed. All the girls crossed their arms and held hands with the people next to them. Mrs. Gilbert squeezed the hand of the girl to her left and the squeeze was to go all the way around the circle to Mrs. Gilbert again. For the second year in a row the circle worked.

To finish the breakfast all the girls said their good-byes and gave hugs to all their senior friends.

— Julie Fawcett

Lyn Moser receives her Outstanding Sunshiner Award from Mrs. Gilbert.

Stephanie Schwartz, Chelle Tricker, and Lori Jones stand in line to get their doughnuts and juice.

Linnea Olson finds her doughnut very appetizing while Chelle Tricker finds something amusing.

A Special Day Together

Many of the 1985 seniors carried through their plans of going to Pine Lake after graduation rehearsal, even though the weather wasn't exactly ideal for a picnic. This didn't stop the seniors from having a great day though. Some of the activities the seniors got involved with were basketball, volleyball, paddle boat rides, cuddling up in the blankets and beach towels, and watching the brave souls take a dip in the "not so warm" water. Some of those that weren't so brave, ended up being in the water with no choice at all. When the word got around that there was food, everyone took part in the fun and tasty activity which consisted of sandwiches, fruit, pop, and lots of munchies.

After everyone completely filled themselves with food, they continued with their fun-filled activities. Finally it was time to load up the buses and head back to school. Although only a few hours were spent together as a class, there was lots of fun, and many memories made that will last a lifetime.

The Best Was Yet To Come

Exuberant seniors throw their caps as the official announcement is made.

At last the time had come for the class of 1985 to finish their thirteen year tenure at Adams Central. Our graduation was like no other. For the first time ever, the graduation ceremonies were held on a Friday night.

Valedictorian Jami Gerber and Salutatorian Julie Fawcett spoke in honor of our class. Julie brought back memories of the years we had spent together at AC. She also commented that graduation, which was the last time we were all together, would be the most memorable time.

Jami spoke of the future of the students. She told us to set goals and to strive to obtain them, for "The Best Was Yet To Come."

The graduating class was also represented by Nora Huerta. Nora told about some of her experiences in America and thanked those people who became her friends.

Also, the senior class viewed a slide show that was assembled by the publication staff photographers. While the slides presented the students during our senior year, tears were brought to the eyes of many of the seniors. As the songs "I Wouldn't Change A Thing," "The Best Was Yet To Come," "Through The Years," and "Friends" were played simultaneously with the slides, no one could forget all of the great times and memories that our class had together.

With the graduation ceremonies over and our class' time at AC finished, we readily remembered our class motto —

Special times and special places

Special friends together;

The moments pass so quickly,

But the memories last forever.

— Robin Roe

Sandi Fairchild, Pat Feasel, and Gregg Ford stand in line to receive their diplomas.

Jami Gerber delivers her Valedictorian address.

Kim Moser says, "Bring on the graduation parties."

The Girls' Quartet present their version of "The Halls of Central."

Chelle Tricker grasps her diploma and happily realizes school is out.

Jean Byer and Lonnie Chamberlain chuckle to themselves as they see their names in the graduation program.

Exchange student Nora Huerta appears happy that graduation is over.

Seniors' high school careers come to a close as they exit the gym.

"How do you spell relief — a signed diploma!" says Bob Busse.

Seniors ponder their final moments together at Adams Central.

School board members listen as Julie Fawcett gives her Salutatorian address.

Don't throw the toilet paper, Dan!

Penny Beer and Scott Busse approach their seats during the processional.

Smiling faces are evidence of graduation being over.

Amy Hubbard and Nora Huerta await the signal to come forward and claim their diplomas.

It was a year for firsts in AC's athletic program. Starting the school year off right by capturing both the sectional and regional football titles, the athletes accelerated to even more feats. The wrestling season proved to be just as exciting as the football season. The varsity squad held a near perfect record of 13-2 and sent ten BAGUBAS to the sectional. Advancing into the regional, the Jets came out with three guys moving into the semi-state. Lonnie Chamberlain, Troy Roe, and Gregg Sndyer were victorious and headed to state. Then it happened, for the first time in AC's history, a BAGUBA won a state championship. Troy Roe defeated all of his opponents and won the 105 pound title.

As the weather warmed up, so did the tracksters, golfers, and baseball players. Some of the tracksters qualified for sectional in their events and then moved into the regional. Both the golf and baseball teams hoped for warm weather and sunshine for their matches and games.

All through the year individual records were broken and improved by dedicated athletes, but it took the whole team to make the difference, and to ... MAKE OUR DAY.

— Robin Roe

INTRODUCING THE 1984 SECTIONAL AND REGIONAL CHAMPS!

After finishing the regular football season play with a 8-2 record, the awesome Jet football team won the right to go on to the Class A playoffs.

In the first game against Eastern, the Jets led at half time 7-0. But, the Comets took a 10-7 lead with 10:08 remaining in the third quarter. The Jets didn't quit though, Feasel scored and Mitchel added the kick to give the Jets a 14-10 lead. The Jets used their quickness to offset the Comets' size, thus handing Eastern a 20-10 loss and Central the sectional title.

Next, the Jets advanced into regional play against third-rated Carroll Cougars. Gregg Snyder, who scored two touchdowns, led both teams with 145 yards rushing on 26 carries. Mitchel had three extra-point kicks, while Feasel scored in the fourth insuring the 21-0 victory and the regional title.

The number two ranked North Judson Blue Jays were the Jets semi-state game opponents. The Jays went into the semi-state with a 12-0 record. Central led in the first quarter with a touchdown by Feasel and an extra kick by Mitchel. In the third, Lehman made the touchdown, but North Judson blocked the extra-point attempt. The score stood at 14-13, thus ending the '84 football season. The Jets finished up the season with a super 10-3 record.

Jets Claim First Regional

This season was definitely one to be long remembered. The success this season brought was the pay-off for all of the long, hard practices.

Finishing the season 10-3 overall, the Jets had a lot to be proud of. As Coach Minnich said of his team, "The basis of the season was total team effort. When each person was asked for 100 percent, they gave 100 percent." The effort was well worth it. The Jets lost only to Norwell, Dekalb, and North Judson, all of which were very close games.

Bringing home the Sectional title from Eastern was a feat in itself. But they didn't stop there; they went one better by defeating Carroll (of Flora) to bring home the Regional title.

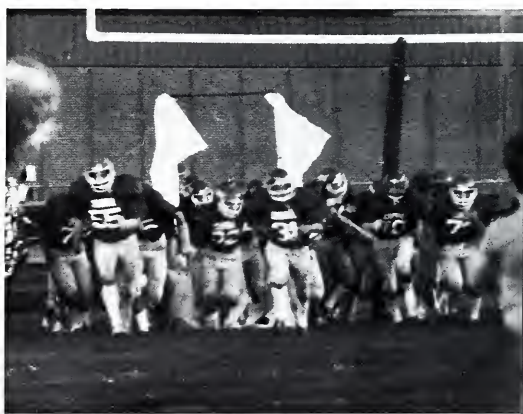

Chad Everett had the honor of being chosen as the first Jet griddier to make First Team All-State. For the first time two backs, Bart Lehman and Gregg Snyder, had rushed for over 1,000 yards. Pat Feasel, Chad Everett, Bart Lehman, and Gregg Snyder were all selected to the All-ACAC First Team.

Personal successes like this helped lead this team on.

Co-captains elected this year were Chad Everett and Bart Lehman. Voted most valuable lineman was Chad Everett and most valuable backs for the season were Bart Lehman and Gregg Snyder. This year a new award, the Gary Manley Award, was given to Chad Everett.

None of this could have been achieved without the coaches and team working together to make this season one that will never be forgotten.

Quarterback Rob Shoemaker waits for the hike.

The Junior Varsity football team finished their season with a record of 4-2, with big wins coming over Bluffton and Leo. After a fine season, Coach Miller named Doug Hedington Most Valuable Lineman. The Most Valuable Backs were Dan Beer and John Hartman. Coach Miller stated, "The younger players gained valuable experience. If they continue to work hard, they should be able to contribute to our fine football program's success."

The Freshmen squad also ended their season with a 4-2 record. After a well-played season, Coaches Mosser and Hough named John Carroll Most Valuable Lineman and Kurt Combs as Most Valuable Back for the Freshmen squad.

Humble Takes Charge — Leads CC Girls

Replacing Tom Hough as the Cross Country coach was Barry Humble who led the girls through a fine season. The season began with four returning lettermen and six new runners. The girls did an exceptional job and put forth a great effort. Although the girls had such success they also had many injuries during the season. This made the competition tough but the girls kept a positive attitude and ran to their best ability.

The only Senior on the team, Tonya Hirschy, was voted the team captain. The top runner most of the season, Sharlene Steffen, was voted most valuable runner. Lisa Creque, who was out most of the season due to injury was voted most improved runner by her teammates.

This year Coach Humble started a new award called "The Golden Guts Award." This award was given to the runner who had the most effort and determination. This award was given to Senior Tonya Hirschy.

The Girls Cross Country team ended up their season with 4 wins and 4 losses.

Coach Humble led the boys team to a record of 3 wins over Heritage, Churubusco, and Southern Wells and had 8 losses. Senior Dave Miller was voted team captain by his teammates. Rick Baumer, top runner throughout the season was voted Most Valuable Runner. Towards the end of the season Rick was burdened with an injury but he kept high spirits and ran to his best ability. Jeff Bowers, a first year runner in Cross Country, was voted most improved runner for his great improvements on his times throughout the season.

Even though the team records show more losses than wins they still had a good season. Each teammate proved to have great abilities by putting forth a great effort and showing tremendous determination.

Memories Highlight Volleyball Season

Even though the 1984 girls volleyball team had a record of 4-19 the season was still filled with success.

The team only came up with four victories throughout the year but the one big victory was over county rival South Adams. The squad also defeated ACAC foe Leo. Huntington Catholic and Bluffton also contributed to the Jets' win column.

The team did a super job at the service line. As a whole, the team served 89% for the season. Senior Julie Fawcett led the team with a 97%. Julie missed 4 serves throughout the year missing the serving record by 1 serve. Amy Hower served 94% for the year while Penny Beer had a 90%.

The JV did have a losing record of 5-9 but, with a new coach, it's always hard to have a winning season until the coach learns who would be the best girls to play. Throughout the season the JV did come up with some big wins. The girls were able to defeat their rivals to the south, South Adams, as well as Elmhurst, Parkway, Northrop, and Huntington Catholic.

At the sports banquet Jodi Newcomer was given the Most Valuable Player trophy for the Varsity. Deanna Myers was chosen as the Most Improved Player for JV.

Throughout the year the team always seemed to fall short to the opposing team no matter how well they played. Each member of the team was let down tremendously by the final record but each of them has memories of the times that were shared on and off the floor and the friends that were made not only from AC but from other schools.

On The Mat With Reserves

The reserve wrestling team finished their 1984-85 season with a 6-4 record. They overcame the following teams: Leo, Churubusco, Heritage, Norwell, Bluffton and Northrop. The C-team finished with an 0-2 record being defeated by Jay County and Carroll. The reserve wrestler with the most pins this year was Rich Braun with 11 pins. The wrestler with the most takedowns was John Hartman with 18. The team was assisted by Coach Humble Jack Bertsch, Pat Briede and Tom Hill.

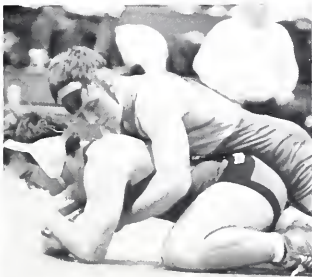

Every year the varsity votes on the most valuable wrestler for the reserve team. This year there was a tie between John Hartman and Rich Braun and both received shirts as awards. These reserve wrestlers proved their BAGUBA power to be future varsity wrestlers, in upcoming years.

Roe Earns State Title — Bagubas Have Best Season Yet

As the 1984-85 wrestling season opened, many people had doubts as to how tough the Jets were going to be. As the season progressed, the Bagubas once again proved that AC wrestling is for real.

The grapplers finished the year at 13-2 in regular season matches, losing only to county rival Belmont and to Muncie South. The highlight of the regular season matches came when the grapplers upset Snider 29-28 to beat them for the second year in a row.

The wrestling Jets entered the Twin Lakes tourney for the first time this year and came home with the championship trophy and five individual champs. At their own eight-way tourney, the Jets came in second behind Jay County once again this year.

Everyone thought that this was going to be the year to upset the Jets in the ACAC but the Bagubas showed everyone that the ACAC trophy is meant to stay at AC. With six champs, three runner-ups, and three third place finishers, the Jets racked up 199½ points to easily out-distance Woodlan by 60 points.

In the sectional tournament, the Jets once again gave Belmont a run for the championship but came up on the losing end. The grapplers had four champs, and advanced a total of ten to regional. The Jets placed third at regional and advanced three Bagubas — Lonnie Chamberlain, Troy Roe, and Gregg Snyder — to semi-state, with Chamberlain and Roe being champs. At semi-state the Jets finished fourth and got all three wrestlers through to state. Roe and Snyder both won their weight classes while Chamberlain placed third. At the state tourney it was Troy Roe's day all the way. Chamberlain and Snyder both lost their first matches but Roe won his and went on to win three more to become the 105 pound champ.

This was definitely a fantastic year for Roe. He finished the season undefeated at 38-0. He led the team in pins and take-downs with 28 and 64 respectively. He owns all of the records but one and that one is most wins as a senior. Since Roe was only a junior this year, he has a shot at that record which is held by Chamberlain next year.

With all the success that the team enjoyed this year, it's clear to see that AC wrestling is for real.

Girls Face Hard Luck

Even though the 1985 girls' varsity basketball team finished their season with a 1-17 record, they still had a very successful and rewarding year.

Their record may indicate a losing season, but in reality it wasn't. The team lost 9 games by only 5 points or less, including two overtimes. Their only victory of the season came against Winchester, 39-37. Throughout the season the girls just faced much hard luck and disappointment. But they did gain some valuable playing experience and most of all they all gained friendships that will last forever.

The squad was very young and inexperienced with only three returning letter winners back from last year's squad. They were Seniors — Penny Beer and Kristi Ehrman and Junior — Gina Black. By the time the season was over an additional two Juniors and three Sophomores had earned their letters.

At the annual basketball sports banquet Senior Penny Beer received the team's MVP award. She also obtained an assists and a steals award for her 65 assists and 45 steals on the season. Penny was also named to the ACAC All Conference team. Kristi Ehrman received an award for the Best Free Throw Percentage.

The Reserves finished their season with a 1-14 record. The team was very young and consisted of four Sophomores and four Freshmen. Joan Arnold received the team's Hustle Award at the basketball sports banquet.

Season Played With Adversity

Brandy Allen shoots for two!

The 1984-85 Jet cagers had a very tough year. They started out with 4 seniors, and ended with 2. They not only had to suffer from losing teammates but injuries as well.

Their record for the year was 1-19, defeating only Marion Bennett 56-52. They had many close games but just couldn't pull it off. The Sectional battle against South Adams was very close during the first 3 quarters but the Jets lost steam and were defeated in the 4th quarter.

At the sports banquet many awards were given to the players. Rod Hamilton was most Valuable Player while Andy Ross was honored with the Robert Shoup Mental Attitude award plus the free throw percentage award. Brandy Allen received the Best Defensive Player and Rick Baumer the Most Improved Player.

After the season ended, Rick Dubach resigned as varsity basketball coach.

Up-Down All-Around Season

The 1984-85 JV Basketball team finished their season this year with four wins and fourteen losses. Although they didn't win too many games, they still played every game well. Awards went to Joe Isch for M.V.P., Jeff Chrisman for best defense and most improved went to Troy Leyse.

The freshmen basketball team concluded their sensational season with a 7-8 record. Coach McIntosh stated, "The 1984-85 Freshmen basketball team was the best team, by far, at getting the most out of what talent they have."

The team voted Kurt Combs as the most valuable player and most improved player went to Matt Burkhart. Merle Liter was voted best defensive player.

Varsity Baseball Has Tough Season

The varsity baseball team started out the season with five returning lettermen who helped the team pull out wins five out of twenty-one times. Their record was 5-16 and 1-5 in the ACAC.

They started out slow, but after their first win against Winchester, the team's morale improved and they then won four more games. Victories were against Norwell, Ft. Recovery, Parkway, and South Adams.

Gregg Snyder led the team by hitting over .480 and Greg Saunders led the team in RBI's with 16 and homeruns with five.

Coach Miller summed up the season by saying, "What was a team of unknown abilities and unstable individuals grew into a united band of ballplayers competively through the last half of the season."

His Wishes Are Their Accomplishments

Coach Hubbard stated, "My goals for the season were to pursue personal excellence and enjoy the game of baseball. I feel we accomplished these goals. Again this year, I had a very fine group of young men to work with and I thank them for an enjoyable season."

The line-ups changed from game to game and the Jets adjusted well to these changes. Most games were very well played with only the second Bluffton and South Adams games being lost due to errors. The Jets were in contention in all the games except the Norwell loss. Three losses were by one run and one loss was by two runs. The Jay County game and taking Bellmont into extra innings were the highlights of the season.

Hubbard said he is excited about the baseball future of these freshmen and sophomores. At every game coaches and umpires have commented that A.C. should be very well represented in baseball for the next two or three years.

Records Fall In Hole

The golf team had an eventful year under first year head coach Doug Carr, breaking almost every record there was.

The 9-hole individual record was broken during the Sectional by Rob Shoemaker who shot a 36. Eric Coil now holds the 18-hole individual record by shooting a 77. Two Sectional records were broken this year: the first one being the 18-hole individual Sectional record broken by Rob Shoemaker's 80. Secondly, was the 18-hole Sectional team record, which is now a 348, beating the old record by seventeen strokes. The team that was able to do this was Eric Coil, Chris Frauhiger, Rob Shoemaker and Tim Beery.

Two records were broken during the ACAC. Those were the 18-hole overall record and the 18-hole team record both with the score of 340.

The team's overall record this year was 33-27. In dual matches they were 8-4 and came in fifth out of eight teams in the ACAC.

At the end of the year, Eric Coil was voted as the Medalist of the Year.

Young But Determined

The 1985 girls' track team went into their season with a very young, inexperienced squad. Even though the team was half made up of freshmen the girls were still not intimidated by their opponents' experience. The girls did, however, bring home five wins while suffering six losses with several of them being close.

The team sent eight girls to the Huntington North Sectional to compete.

Seniors Julie Fawcett and Amy Hower were chosen as team captains. Since they were the only two upperclassmen on the squad they had to take on the responsibility of helping the freshmen through their first year.

Baumer And Lehman Lead Tracksters

The boys' track team was led by co-captains Bart Lehman and Rick Baumer. The team consisted of 24 members, one senior, three juniors, nine sophomores and eleven freshmen. The team was very young and inexperienced for the varsity level, but they had a lot of talent.

Only two members of the boys' track team qualified for sectional and regional, Bart Lehman and Rick Baumer. Lehman qualified for sectional in the 300 low hurdles, pole vault, 100, and the 200. He then advanced to regional in the 300 low hurdles. Baumer qualified for sectional in the 800, high hurdles, 400 and the high jump. He then advanced to the regional in the 800. Lehman and Baumer both set new school records in the 300 low hurdles and the 800 respectively.

Most valuable runner went to Bart Lehman. Most valuable field event person went to Rick Baumer. Daren Black and John DeVoss were awarded the hustle award for their outstanding efforts throughout the season.

Tennis Team Ends 8-7

Last season the girls' tennis team had two big changes. They worked out with a new coach and they had a freshmen team. With only one senior on the team, the juniors took command.

The Varsity had an excellent season going 8-7 on the schedule. The J.V. had an awesome season going 10-3, only losing to Harding, Dwenger, and Northrop.

At the Marion Sectional, the netters were the second best team, losing only to the champions, Marion.

We're From Central And

1984-85 Varsity Cheerleaders (top to bottom): Amy Adams, Amy Colter, Deana Lehman, Jenny Call, Cheryl Nussbaum, Natalie Yager, LaDana Smith, Carol Smith

The 1984-85 cheerleaders were busy since day one of spring's tryouts. Many activities kept the cheerleaders right on top, such as attending cheer camp at Ball State. Also, the squad participated in many competitions including State Fair, which was a new experience for everyone. A new asset was Marianne Horn, the cheerleading sponsor, who gave the girls motivation to get out there and do their best as a cheerleader and in life.

A combined squad of eight girls was a key asset for building higher mounts and spreading spirit all around.

This year there was an outstanding squad of freshmen cheerleaders who also cheered for some junior varsity games and did many activities during the Varsity games with the Varsity Cheerleaders. The main goal of the squad was to be the best in the area and with hard work and determination it was easy to see they were the best squad. Coach Minnich and Coach Dubach commented that the girls were the best they had seen in all the years they had been at Adams Central.

"We're from Central and couldn't be prouder." Through victory and defeat, this cheerleading squad was always on their feet. From beginning until end they we're proud to be from Central!

Athletes Honored

As every athlete knows, a sport can take many hours of practice and hard work. The coaches and fans also realized how much work and effort went into their sports; therefore, they honored the athletes with a sports' banquet at the close of the season.

The sports' banquets gave the coaches and fans a chance to let the athletes know that their hard work was appreciated.

With the new "Time On Task Rule," school time couldn't be used for club meetings, but that didn't stop the dedicated students and sponsors from being a part of them. All of the clubs had to meet before or after school, sometimes a goal rather hard to achieve with everyone's busy schedules. Somehow people made time and all of the clubs had a successful year.

Members as well as the officers set goals in each club and then worked to obtain them. They learned how to plan and organize events; therefore, they became more independent. They also made new friendships with underclassmen and upperclassmen. Fund raising was one way the clubs were supported. From candy in SSS to posters in FCA, they all added up to a successful club and a successful year. Campus Life and FCA were both positive forces in the students' lives as were International Club, and Student Council. Students participated in activities such as Ma, Pa, and Me Night, S.P.U.G., Lift-A-Thon, and FFA Week.

Students who participated in the many clubs not only helped themselves, but they also helped to ... MAKE OUR DAY.

Riley & Sunshine — “Partners In Progress”

The Sunshine motto — “Others,” demonstrates the importance of service in the Sunshine Society. “Partners in Progress” was selected as the theme for 1984-85. This theme was chosen to commemorate the sixty year association between the Indiana State Sunshine Societies and the Riley Children’s Hospital in Indianapolis. Over this period, the Sunshine Society had been a partner of the Riley Hospital to help support its programs and its fine efforts in the field of medical treatment. Countless numbers of patients have been helped through these cooperative efforts. Progress has been made in the past and as the partnership continues, these two organizations will progress together to meet new challenges in the years to come.

The 1984-85 Sunshine officers were as follows: President — Jenny Liby, Vice President — Michelle Speakman, Treasurer — Julie Fawcett, Recording Secretary — Kara Isch, and Corresponding Secretary — Laura Rich. Sponsors were Susann Gilbert and Carol Longen-berger.

The Sunshine girls worked very hard on different activities such as SSS Banquet, Initiation, Ideal Ladies and Mothers’ Tea, Granny Night, Ma, Pa, and Me Night, March of Dimes collections and many more. The Sunshine girls collected over $1000 for March of Dimes. Each and every Sunshine girl had a very busy and exciting year.

Drama Club In Action

The Drama Club finished with a rewarding and an active year. This school year three plays were performed.

Their first play, Voices, was presented in the fall. The Gift of the Magi then followed to go along with the Christmas season. Egad, What a Cad! finished the season.

The actors and actresses not only played a big part in the performance but the ushers, light manager, artistic designer, publicity manager, and director helped to make all the performances a success.

Art Club Creates Mugs

The Fine Arts Club was started to express to other students the art talents of others around them and to show them the importance of art. The Art Club began their activities this year by making coffee mugs for the high school teachers. They also made mugs for the North Central Evaluation Team.

The members and Mr. Walsh took time out to visit the Fort Wayne Art Museum. Converting the art studio into a mini-museum, open to the students during their lunch periods, was another activity which they participated in. During the spring concert, the art department sponsored an art display of many of the members projects. The activities which they participated in through the year were very successful.

FCA — Getting Better And Better

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes had an exciting and successful year. They began the year with poster sales. The money from the posters went for a ski trip at Swiss Valley, which the group took over Christmas vacation.

The group discussed many different topics which included music and Christianity in everyday living. Throughout the year they held different parties for Halloween, Christmas, and Valentine's Day. A Lift-A-Thon was held near the end of the year to raise money to send students to FCA camp at Black Mountain, North Carolina.

An extension of the FCA program was T.I.D. — Teens In Discussion. The group of students met Wednesday mornings to discuss topics such as God, dating, sex, and drinking.

Through the formation of T.I.D. and the regular FCA meetings, The Fellowship of Christian Athletes held a very successful year.

Officers for the year included:

AC Student To Germany

The International Club sponsored an Octoberfest, which was fun for everyone, with games such as a cake walk and a bottle toss. They also danced polkas to German music. Leah Lichtenberger, a very active member in the International Club, traveled to Germany during the summer to learn more about the German Culture. Leah was selected through the honors program at Indiana University.

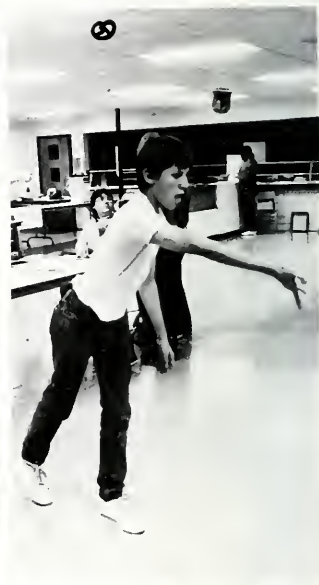

Club Sponsors for the year were: Mrs. McKenzie, — Spanish; Mrs. Parks — French; and Mrs. Dixon — German. There were a total of 70 students that participated in the International Club.

NHS — Quite An Honor

The Adams Central chapter of the National Honor Society once again conducted their annual Tag Day. New members tagged included six seniors: Amy Adams, Kim Biery, Jodi Newcomer, Robin Roe, and Kim Schmutz; and thirteen juniors: Gina Black, Audra Burkhardt, Mary Caudle, Kara Isch, Lisa Kahlert, Gwen Kipfer, Wendy Kipfer, Leah Lichtenberger, Mickie Settle, Gregg Snyder, Michelle Speakman, Roqy Sprunger, and Matt Sutter.

The Faculty Council, composed of five teachers and the advisor, Mr. Allspaw, selected the new members. A student with a grade point average of 8.0 or higher was eligible. Also the selection was based on the leadership, character, and service of the candidate.

Dairy Team To Tennessee

The Adams Central FFA started out the year with a successful dairy judging team which consisted of Stan Becher, Judy Becher, Kevin Girod, and Jeff Liechty. They competed in the National Dairy Judging contest in Memphis, Tennessee. The team placed third overall in the nation with Kevin Girod being second high individual in the nation in the Brown Swiss class. Jeff Liechty was second high individual in the Guernsey class, eighth high individual in oral reasons and seventh individual high score in the nation. Stan Becher was fourth high in the individual in the Guernsey class. The team as a whole placed third in the Ayrshire class, first in the Brown Swiss class, fourth in the Holstein class, tenth in the Jersey class, and overall, third in the nation.

In June of 1984 at the State Convention, Lori Becher became Indiana's State Star Farmer. She was the first female to become a State Star Farmer in the state of Indiana. Also at the state Convention, Kevin Girod, Scott Inniger, and Delin Johnson received their Hoosier Farmer Degree. This award goes only to the top 2% of FFA members in the state of Indiana. Stan Becher also received his state winning Dairy Proficiency Award. He then competed in the National Competition and was in the top four in the nation.

The FFA Basketball team was undefeated throughout the season. The team consisted of FFA members and competed against the area chapters.

The officers for the 84-85 year were: Paul Bluhm — President; Daryl Johnson — 1st Vice-President; Mike Vanhorn — 2nd Vice-President; Matt Bauman — Secretary; David Jackson — Treasurer; Jeff Liechty — Reporter; and Tim Tonner — Sentinel.

Even with all the sports and club activities that students participated in, they still found time to do homework and to be slightly academically inclined. In the hallways, seniors could be heard complaining about government or psych. class; juniors tried to cram for history tests; sophomores hurried to class to write their speeches for English; and some freshmen hurried to class so they could study for their next class. It was hard to believe that the seniors had once studied like that. It's even harder to believe that they voluntarily participated in class, but someday the freshmen will follow in their footsteps.

Many students strived for all "A's" but for others it was enough just to pass a class. There seemed to be more homework than ever, but they worked to their best ability and looked hopefully forward to their own graduation.

The students fulfilled their obligations for the most part and helped Central to ...

Frustration Runs High

The publications staff was busy the entire year. The staff worked to meet the deadlines of both the newspaper and the yearbook. Every member of the staff was in charge of at least two activities. They would then have to write stories for the Jet Stream as well as for the Centrals. But, just writing stories was not enough. They had to be counted and typed to be printed in the newspaper. There was even more work to be done for the yearbook.

For each activity the student had to design the page layout, find and crop pictures, write captions and copy and think of a headline. Most people didn't realize all of the hard work and dedication that went into the development and creation of the yearbook and newspaper.

Developing Skills

Drama and business English were new classes in the English department. The drama class, which was taught by Mrs. Raber, studied and acted out plays. Mr. Markley's business English class widened their skills in grammar as it applied to business.

The advanced composition students traveled to the Allen County Library to obtain helpful information for their term papers. The students also concentrated on writing essays and reading novels.

The underclassmen were also kept busy. English nine students continued building on the basics of grammar. Also, they read the annual Romeo and Juliet story. The sophomores spent their year working on writing skills, grammar, and reading several pieces of literature.

Independent reading students find time to discuss current reading assignments.

Amy Dick looks for term paper material at the Ft. Wayne Public Library.

Jeff Carroll hams it up in English 9.

Math — Another Step Forward

By combining excellent teachers with excellent students, Adams Central has achieved an ideal learning atmosphere for its math field.

Added stress put on mathematics has made A.C.'s math students work even harder than in years past. But when put to the test, our student body has come through with flying colors.

The number of people taking advanced classes such as Trigonometry and Analytic Geometry and Calculus has increased steadily over time, which just proves that the students of A.C. are hard workers and really have something to show for themselves.

— Shelly Archer

Dan Breauchy is concentrating on his algebra problem.

Chelle Tricker and Shelly Archer are working hard on their trig assignment.

Scott Hill, Cami Fellers, and Alayna Slater try to find something interesting in algebra.

Hands On Experience

Computers at AC have come along way since they were first introduced to this school. Now AC offers six different classes that involve computers. Everything from learning to program the computers to word-processing to computerized accounting is now taught. The computers do have some setbacks through, the cost of keeping them updated is substantial. But the learning that takes place in these classes is definitely worth the time invested as we are entering a day and age when computers are popping up everywhere you turn.

Pat Feasel and Kris Gallmeyer decide that trying to get your project done on time is one thing, but getting it done right is another story.

Julie Fawcett, Amy Adams, and Chris Frauhiger already know that three heads are better than one.

Science Offers Basics Plus More

The science department offered many of the familiar classes such as biology, advanced biology, chemistry, advanced chemistry, physics and earth and physical science.

Through the science classes students learned many different skills. In biology they learned how to dissect frogs and fish. They also studied protists, plants, animals, and the skeletal system. Advanced biology students focused on animal behavior, human anatomy, and ecology.

Physical and earth science students concentrated on the basic concepts of science. The concepts included the study of geology, astronomy, and meteorology. Both the chemistry and advanced chemistry students performed experiments throughout the year.

Some topics studied in chemistry were formulas and equations, the periodic table, and organic chemistry. The advanced class spent part of the year reviewing organic chemistry and then moving on to studying proteins, enzymes, metabolism, and blood. The physics class studied heat, mechanics, light, sound, and electricity.

— Lori Kohne

Mr. Hubbard's advanced biology class pays close attention to one of his lectures.

With the aid of his calculator, Jeff Har-ruff completes his Chemistry quiz.

Mind Your Own Business

There were several classes involving business for the students to choose from such as: Typing I, II, and III, Accounting I, II, and III, General Business, Shorthand, Business Management, Office Machines, General Office Practice.

ICE is a class that has been offered in the past which allows the student to go to school for half of the day and then report to work the other half.

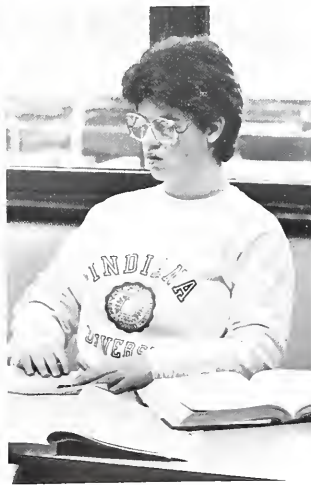

So the business department is advancing in all ways. But most of all their concern is to educate students the right way.

— LeAnn Gerber

Accounting students put in long hours over the adding machines.

Shari White and her employer enjoy a chat after finishing the I.C.E. breakfast.

Lori Kohne is hard at work in accounting.

While in typing II Teresa Strait concentrates at the computer.

P.E. For The Health Of It

The health and physical education classes strived to achieve a healthy mind and body. To accomplish this goal, the freshmen P.E. classes participated in many activities such as soccer, football, basketball, swimming, gymnastics and running. The students competed both individually and as a team.

A new class created in the health area was substance abuse. This class dealt with the reasons behind, the causes for, and the problems that result from substance abuse. The sophomore health classes studied many subjects dealing with the welfare of the students, such as physical fitness, diet, and death. The group also discussed drugs and alcohol with the aid of some speakers.

Working together, the health and P.E. classes helped students to be very healthy — physically and mentally.

— Micki Workinger

Ann Loshe finds the square dance music is too loud in freshmen P.E.

Senior Kent Brown spikes the volleyball over the net.

Industrial Arts Keeps Busy

In the graphic arts class, Mr. Hakes and his students kept busy all year printing the Jet Stream, passes, tickets and other materials in the school that were needed.

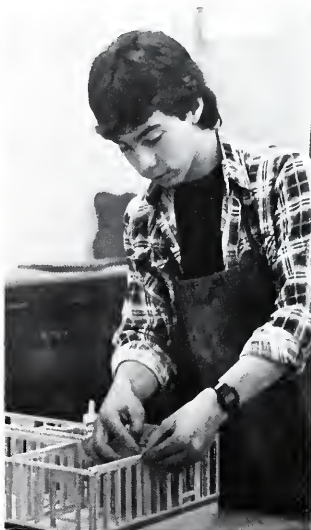

Building trades class, which goes out to the house each day in any kind of weather, put in three hours a day of hard work.

In woods class, the students were busy doing their wood projects. They put in a lot of hours, working in the industrial arts area. They were glad to participate because they had pride in what they could do. Everyone should be proud of Mr. Hakes, Mr. Mosser and Mr. Brandt for all the great work they did.

— Brent Hodle

J.D. Bebout works on his house design.

Monica Dubach sands down her woods project.

Home Life — The Way It Should Be ...

Besides taking classes that taught cooking and sewing skills, some students were interested in other classes which were offered through the Home Ec. Department.

All of the classes in the Home Ec. area were designed to help the student after she was out of school, whether she went to college or started a family. They dealt with becoming an independent person, designing a home, the development and growth of children, and relationships with other people.

ICE In The Working World

ICE (interdisciplinary Cooperative Education) prepares interested students for the job market.

Employers in the community provided hands-on training and experience to the students. They attended school a half-day and went to their jobs and worked a minimum of 15 hours per week. They did many different jobs according to their skills and career choice.

Their money making project for the year was a very successful Pizza Supper. Other special events were an Employer/Parent Breakfast and an Employer Appreciation Banquet.

Social Studies Election Year

Kathy Oliver decides to take some notes, so she is ready for her next history test.

The highlights of the 1984-85 social studies' year were the elections, where the juniors and seniors participated in voting with practice ballots. There were a few guest speakers present throughout the year, including representatives from International Business College and ITT. There were also various speakers from different countries such as Denmark and China.

During the year, the juniors presented two book reports and discussed many historical events. The seniors, meanwhile, studied psychology, the study of human behavior and mental illness. They were required to do term reports. The other senior requirement was to take Government, which is the study of politics and our nation.

Ag Classes Working Hard

Four ag classes were offered this year. They were Agribusiness I, Agribusiness II, Welding I, and Welding II. In the Agribusiness I class students studied animal production which included sheep, swine, beef, and proper nutrition for animals. The Agribusiness II class studied soybean and corn production which included diseases and the proper way to treat them. They also studied the proper way to treat chemicals while mixing them and applying them with a sprayer.

The Welding I class studied the different types of welding rods, different welding positions and they completed a vice project. In Welding II class students practiced their welding skills while completing a project which they designed themselves.

Band Moving Strong

As the band season started, the marching band competed in the Bluffton Street Fair Marching Band Contest, Midwestern Marching Band Festival, District Contest and the Calithumpian Parade contest. They also competed in the 4-H Parade and the Swiss Days Parade. Also this was the first time the band marched before the start of the Indianapolis 500.

In Jazz Band, which was offered during seventh period, they worked up songs for the ISSMA contest at which they received a second division rating. They also competed at the Mississinewa Jazz Festival. They also played for the Pleasant Mills High School Alumni Banquet.

The Concert Band practiced and performed at the Chicken BBQ and the Spring Concert. During this Concert the members of the Band recognized Mr. Henkle for his distinguished service throughout the years of his teaching at AC as he was retiring after the end of the year.

Sing Along With Choir

Singing, building, clapping, harmonizing and reading music from the latest hits to the "Hallelujah Chorus" are just part of the events that occur in choir that is directed by Neil Potter.

Choir students are required to attend the annual Christmas Concert and to participate in the Musical at the end of the year.

Choir is composed of other special groups that a student has to try out for such as Swing choir which dances and sings for many church and community performances. The madrigal feast is held at Christmas time. Another group is the sextet and quartet that traveled with the Swing Choir. The 1984-85 choir had a real exciting year.

Experiences To Last A Lifetime

Learning a foreign language is an experience that is never forgotten. Sure there's a lot of work involved but in the long run it's worth it.

Besides learning a language the German class also learned about the countries of Europe on their culture days. They had them about three times every month. Sometimes they had films that were supplied by the German Library in Detroit. Other times they had visitors that had either come from Europe or had recently visited there. They also saw the comedy "Der Talisman" by Johannes Nestroy and played a German soccer game in the fall.

The French class did studies on The Little Prince and this year they saw its production on stage. During Christmas all the students brought in their shoes to put underneath the Christmas tree and while they were away Santa filled them. They also made some delicious crêpes which are like very thin pancakes.

During Christmas time some of the Spanish students did skits that they had written. Then they were video taped for all to see. Other students read a comical play called Fuenteovejuna. The Spanish class also saw the production of "Don Quixote." Afterward they went out to eat at Banditos.

All in all the foreign classes were very busy. The students took away with them experiences to last a life time.

— Rogy Sprunger

Learning a language takes work as Bill Crook and Michelle Speakman could tell you.

Missy Schmutz and Theresa Heimann have fun attempting a conversation in Spanish.

Alayna Slater intently listens to Mrs. McKenzie in Spanish.

Brad Yoder demonstrates the art of cooking in German class.

Ricky Shoemaker oversees Nora Huerta on her art project.

Creativity In Art

Various classes are offered for different needs of the students in the art field. Students have a choice of taking either general art, drawing, or painting, with Mr. Tom Walsh as their instructor.

All of the art classes have been hard at work this year and have many good artworks to prove it. The most outstanding work would probably be their life-size drawing of Greg Kaehr, Gary Mitchel, and Jim Jesionowski holding their trophy of the very prosperous 1981 football season.

1985 Class

Kathy Bluhm and Kent Steffen model the latest styles for 1985 as they were voted the class trend setters.

Valedictorian

Voted most likely to succeed and most intelligent, Julie Fawcett and Chris Frauhiger are working their way up the ladder.

Those three class hotdogs — Mark Ashley, Monica Dubach, and Chad Reynolds — get ready for one last prank before graduation.

Favorites

Penny Beer and Bart Lehman demonstrate their magnificent strength as they were voted the class' most athletic.

Salutatorian

Kim Moser and Scott Busse tell us just how much fun it is to be with them.

Making sure everything is in place, Tonya Hirschy and Chad Everett were voted most popular, best looking, and best body.

Class flirt Amy Adams gives a seductive look to her co-winner, Gregg Ford.

Adams Central has been making our day since we started school over thirteen years ago. Whether it be a naptime and milk and cookie break in kindergarten, our day at the zoo in the second grade, or our exciting third grade trip to the circus. While in the fifth grade, the school expanded with the addition of the pool, P.E. gym, and home ec. area.

We then made our way to middle school. Sixth grade brought a big change from elementary and a preview of high school. Our chance came in seventh and eight grades to participate in sports.

At last our freshmen year arrived. We were all nervous but we soon adjusted. After some initiation we became more confident and the year quickly passed. We realized we were one step closer to becoming a senior.

The Sunshine Banquet was the main attraction of our sophomore year. The girls were nervous about asking the guys, but in the end it was a night everyone would remember. As we ended the year our dream of becoming a Senior was another step closer.

Our junior year arrived and the work for the prom began. The magazine sales were a huge success, enabling us to provide one of best proms ever. We were ready for the last step.

As Seniors, we finally reached the top. How quickly time had passed. Lots of exciting things occurred throughout the year, but as Graduation Day drew near the excitement could really be seen and felt. The time had come, so long CEN-TRAL, YOU'VE MADE OUR DAY.

A year full of firsts

6'4", Senior offensive tackle and defensive linebacker, Chad Everett, achieved many firsts for A.C. and for himself.

Chad's team honors include being co-captain, most valuable lineman and recipient of the first Gary E. Manley Memorial Scholarship. Chad also received honors for All-Conference linebacker. His state honors include: First Team All-State Offensive Tackle — UPI — first ever at A.C., First Team All-State Offensive Tackler — Bloomington Herald, First Team All-Area Offensive Tackle — Journal-Gazette, Second Team All-State Offensive Tackle — A.P., Honorable Mention All-State Linebacker — A.P.

According to Coach Minnich, "Chad Everett is one of the outstanding football players to graduate from Adams Central High School. His leadership, hard-hitting, and quickness are the reasons for his well-deserved honors. Individual honors can only be obtained by teamwork and the positive attitude towards success. The success of the 1984 Adams Central Football team can be attributed, not only to Chad Everett, but to ALL members who played their part this past season."

How did Central make your day?

Central made everyone's day through various means. By belonging to different clubs and organizations and being contributing members each student was a part of Central. Participating in the sports program was also a way to make the student's day. Administration and faculty was a part of Central, too. But everyone's day was made by forming friendships and striving for all of the achievements that our school, through faculty and students, was so undoubtedly awarded.

South Of The Border Visitor

Nora Elisa Huerta Tamayo, a native of Los Mochis, Sin Aloa, Mexico, arrived in the United States on August 15, 1984. Nora came through the Youth Exchange Service. Mr. and Mrs. Donald Garwood were Nora's host family.

Nora noted some differences between American and Mexican schools. First, they hardly ever change classrooms. Instead, the teachers change rooms. Another difference is that they don't have the same classes everyday. One big difference in Mexican schools is that all the students have the same classes, whether they like it or not.

There are some differences between the Americans and Mexicans too. Women in the U.S. have more jobs outside of the home. Also teenagers have jobs and more independence from their parents than the Mexicans.

Nora also added, "I am really happy to have come here because I think I'll have a good experience. To come to a different country, to live with a family and to meet different people and customs is HARD. But, you learn a lot of good and bad things. I see everything with optimism and I have a really good time."

Puttin' On The Spirit!

John Gilbert, Mrs. Gilbert's husband, created the next two buttons, while Mrs. Gilbert and some of her Sunshine girls put the buttons together. The "ADAMS CENTRAL COMIN' AT YA IN '84" button helped the team charge through the regional and past Carroll. For the semi-state game, "JETS ARE BLUEJAY BUSTERS" was also a successful spirit booster. Through the wearing of these spirit buttons Adams Central fans supported our winning football team.

This year was definitely a great year for spirit buttons. The Sunshine Society started off the year wearing a specially created button, "LET THE SUNSHINE IN."

For the 1984 sectional, regional, and semi-state football games, special spirit badges were made to help create "JET FEVER." Mr. Walsh designed the first button "BEAT EASTERN," which was a great spirit boost for our win over Eastern.

Friendships: A lasting memory

The 1985 Seniors, who spent a lot of great times together, were a close class. During the fall, going to some awesome football games, eating pizza after, and finally t.p.ing some unfortunate victim with friends was a great way to top off the week. Going to parties, seeing movies and of course "cruisin' the big town of Decatur" were activities most Seniors participated in all year long. Much of the Senior class could be spotted during the summer at the Drive-In or the hottest parking lot in town — McDonald's.

Sponsors encourage success

Mrs. Marianne Horn and Mr. John Reinhard were the 1985 Senior class sponsors for the past two years. During our Junior year they were a great help in the magazine sales and made the prom one of the best ever. Throughout our Senior year they assisted the class officers in making decisions concerning graduation. Thanks goes to both Mrs. Horn and Mr. Reinhard, they made our major high school events special. We couldn't have done it without them.

Being an underclassmen may not have been so bad, or was it? According to Webster, an underclassman is a freshman, sophomore, or junior. At AC we added the words "that goes through a lot to reach the top" to this definition. To the seniors, being a freshman was something that they had forgotten a long time ago but the freshmen easily remembered the pain of the penny-pushing initiations at Campus Life. Or the sophomores resented the statement that seniors constantly repeated "My pet peeve is mouthy sophomores!" The juniors viewed the seniors contracting Senioritis at the closing of the school year and looked forward to the day when they would finally be at the top.

As the year went by, the underclassmen grew accustomed to the seniors dominating over them. But, as the year drew to a close, all underclassmen were looking forward to next year when they would move up, coming closer to their goal of becoming a senior.

On the final day of school, as each person looked into the future of the next year, the underclassmen repeated the challenging statement ... C'MON CENTRAL MAKE MY DAY.

The Class Of "86"

The junior class officers for 1985 are:
President — Natalie Yager, Vice President — Jenny DeVoss, Treasurer — Audra Burkhart, and Secretary — Lisa Creque.

The Junior class, this year, was kept very busy by selling magazines, spending a lot of time making plans for prom, making the big decision whether or not to go to college, and if so, where? Winning the powder puff football game and hall decorations for 1985 added a feeling of pride and excitement for all of the juniors.

The Achievers

"We have a great class because achievement isn't looked down upon. In some classes getting good grades is considered weird or uncool. In our class the people are achievers." This was said by a sophomore student and indeed she was so correct. The sophomores proved this time and time again. Many sophomores on various athletic teams worked their way up to starting positions and many times made major contributions for the success of their teams. The sophomores also were a dominate force in other school organizations such as sunshine, band, choir, and FFA just to mention a few.

But all this isn't a wonder when you look at the class officers and student council representatives that were backed by sponsors Teri Carr and Bill Hubbard. They were: pres. — John Deathe, v. pres. — Krissy Schwaller, sec. — Julie Smith, and treas. — Carla Faurote. The representatives of student council were Jeff Chrisman, John Deathe, Jenny Hubbard, Arlen Lehman, Krissy Schwaller, and LaDana Smith.

The sophomores just didn't seem to be able to stop. They just kept reaching for higher and higher goals. Another sophomore summed it all up — "The class of '87 is unique. We strive for our goals, we hold onto hope, and we fulfill our dreams."

Frosh Beginning To See Light

Everyone says there is a light at the end of every tunnel and the class of "88" is beginning to see that light.

The class of "88" has a lot of good and bad times ahead of them in the next three years. They have to work a little harder each year so they will have all of their credits for graduation. When they do reach the end they all can say it was worth all the hard work they've put into it.

Dedicated Staff Teaches

The role of a teacher involved a lot of time, dedication, and patience. At times this job was very difficult. It was nearly impossible for students to realize how much it took, unless they had taught some kind of class themselves. Most of the teachers did their very best in trying to help their students to become more educated for their future life, which also effects other people's lives.

Students could also count on some teachers to coach them in certain sports each year, and to sponsor them in societies. The students appreciated the time and hours spent in helping them with the future.

Faculty Strives For Kids

As the 1984-85 school year began, three elementary teachers were on maternity leave. Two of the three came back for the second semester. All of the elementary teachers were kept busy preparing the students to advance to their next grades.

In the middle school, there were also teachers out for maternity leave. The middle school faculty struggled trying to get the material ready for each day, and make sure that the students understood what they were being taught. But, even with minor set backs, the teachers in both the elementary and the middle school were usually successful. They all put forth a tremendous effort to teach the kids interesting, yet important, facts that would aid them in the future as well as the present.

Both the elementary and middle school faculty were a part of the path all students took to reach adulthood, but the teachers at AC were a memorable and helpful part of every student's path.

Changes Go Into Effect

A lot of changes were made this year by the administration.

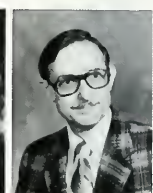

Due to the new time on task rule passed by the state, the schedule had to be changed to accommodate the 360 minutes of "in class" time now required. Classes had to be lengthened to 52 minutes with 4 minutes passing time.

The administration was trying to get the curriculum updated so they included more computers, coordinated both the social studies classes and the science classes in K-12.

Helping Others

Throughout the school year the secretaries and aides have performed many jobs. The jobs ranged from answering phones and writing passes to helping students out and keeping the school system running smoothly.

Many people do not realize the jobs that the secretaries and aides perform to keep A.C. running smoothly. And many times people think that their jobs are not that important to keep the school running properly. But in reality they are a very important part of the school system and A.C. couldn't be run without them.

Behind The Scenes

Talk about a bunch of busy people. These people pushed the word "work" to its limits. Day in and day out they worked with efficiency and precision to make this school run smoothly.

Approximately fifty kids tramped through the nurses' office every day with their aches and pains. They had everything from bee stings and hamster bites to fractured bones and a chipped front tooth. And if that wasn't enough, there were vision testing, scoliosis screening, and state reports.

The janitors were always kept on the move. After opening the building, checking the heat, and turning on the lights, they went to work at their individual jobs. Summer didn't serve as a break as they did outside work and painting. This last summer they redid the entire high school office.

Out of 1,200 people in the student body approximately 1,050 meals were served each day. It's a job that comes near the boundaries of impossibility. Yet, amazingly, the cafeteria staff was able to do just this, and do it with an efficiency that was awesome.

The bus drivers didn't have an easy job either. Every day they transported 1,385 kids to school, which also included Amish kids that didn't attend Adams Central. This year they had to drive on rain slickened, snow, and ice covered roads. They also had to redirect routes because of flooded roads.

These were a few of the people that made this school run smoothly. How they did it will forever remain a mystery.

With many years to look forward to yet, the high school hopefuls spent the year learning and building on the basics of grammar, mathematics, social studies, and reading.

Middle schoolers were coming closer and closer to their high school counterparts. They started to participate in many extra-curricular activities such as band, student council, cheerleading, football, basketball, wrestling and track. They learned both athletic and academic skills to help them to obtain even higher achievements in high school.

Happy to go to school and thinking school was fun are two of the most common feelings in the elementary. Learning about nouns and verbs, addition and subtraction, and the many different people of the earth was a fun and exciting time for the students in kindergarten through fifth grade. The addition of computers in the elementary was also a fun new learning experience.

But these high school hopefuls didn't have all work and no play. They participated in the PTA balloon launch, the annual cross country meet, Colonial Day, the spelling bee, and the wrestling and jump rope contests at the Chili supper.

As these high school hopefuls strive to obtain the eminent high school status ... CEN-TRAL MAKES THEIR DAY.

— Robin Roe

Fall Sports Taste Victory

The Cross Country team did a fantastic job this year. The team went 7-3 for the season. They also finished 3rd in conference action. Matt Werst was the Most Valuable Runner and Brent Byerly won the Most Hustle Award.

The 8th Grade Football Team went 3-3 on their season. Leading rusher for this season was Brian Hyerly. Leading tackler was Keith Gledhill.

The 7th grade Football team had a disappointing season as they went 2-4. Leading rusher, tackler and scorer all went to Eric Gerber.

The 7th grade volleyball team did a super job this year, losing only to St. Joe. Their record was 8-1. M.V.P. award went to Cheri McCullough and the hustle award went to Jennie Lehman.

The 8th grade Volleyball team topped their season off with a 5-3 record. They also won a sportsmanship award at the Carroll tourney. The M.V.P. award went to Amy Ross while the hustle award went to Allison Speakman.

Teams To Be Proud Of

The winter sports' teams took almost everyone by storm as they did the Jets proud with their hard work and determination.

The girls' 7th and 8th grade basketball teams proved just this. The 7th grade team had a record of 5-3. They made it to the ACAC finals by defeating Heritage and Southern Wells. In the finals though, they were defeated by Leo by a narrow margin of 19-15.

In 8th grade basketball, the girls had a perfect season of 13-0. They won the Adams County Tourney by defeating both Belmont and St. Joe. Then they became the ACAC champs after defeating Busco 27-25.

The 7th grade boys' basketball team was also on the move. The A-team pulled off a record of 5-10 while the B-team had a record of 4-1.

Although the team had a rough beginning, the 8th grade team really improved during the last six weeks. They ended with a record of 5-11 and were the runners-up in the ACAC tournament.

In Middle School wrestling, the boys turned out a terrific score of 8-1. In the AC Invitational they had six champs and five runners-up. At the First Annual Jr. High ACAC, they had eleven champs and two runners-up.

Success . . . Success . . . Success!!

Whew! The track teams and cheerleaders were really working hard during the year.

The girls' track team won the Bluffton Invitational. In the ACAC track meet they placed sixth and in the Jay County Relays they placed third. In 7th grade, Cynthia Bluhm had the most points, totaling 70½, followed by Angie Jackson with 63½. Michelle Davidson had the most points for 8th grade followed closely behind by Rhonda Collins with 63 points and Kim Jesionowski with 62½ points.

In the boys' track team Matt Werst was the most valuable player. The winners in the ACAC were: Matt Werst — 800 and 1600, Stan Hill — shotput, and Jim Agler — pole vault.

The cheerleaders were kept very busy. They cheered for the 7th and 8th grade football and basketball teams and also the girls' basketball tourney games. Decorating halls and individual lockers, baking cookies and furnishing treats were just a few more jobs that they had to do. The 7th grade cheerleaders were: Joni Leichty, Julie Stucky, Kris Hamilton, Heather Braun, and Petula Myers. The 8th grade cheerleaders were: Melanie Martin, Michelle Davidson, Amy Hirschy, Jodi Beer, and Eran Karbach.

Middle School Students Movin' Up

Middle school students were very active throughout the year. Many of the functions that went on were the spelling bee and the dance that featured "The Ballroom Blitz." The students also chose a variety of elective classes.

The band kept busy throughout the year with activities such as playing a concert for family and friends.

Many of the students worked on the "What's Happening" staff, which many students enjoyed reading.

All of these activities made the school year go much faster.

"From being a big-time eighth grader to being a lowly freshman," was how one eighth grader described making the transition from middle school to high school.

Their eighth grade memories give the class of '89 a lot to draw on through their high school years. Who could ever forget the project in Mr. Minnich's social studies class? What about the experiments in science with Mr. Chronister? And who could forget the class trip to Cedar Point?

These special events will always tie the eighth grade class together.

7th Graders Have Exciting Year

Seventh graders experienced a very exciting year. They studied about careers and various people from throughout the community came in and gave a presentation on their careers. They also increased their skills in different classes such as language arts, where they presented biography book reports and participated in the Spelling Bee. Also, one social studies unit was devoted to Indiana's heritage by studying an arrowhead collection.

Seventh graders didn't just work hard, as this was their first year to participate in extra-curricular activities including band, football, volleyball, basketball, wrestling and track.

6th Graders Gather Knowledge

Sixth grade students were kept very busy this year. If you have any doubts just ask their teachers.

In math they did many of the basics which ranged from using whole numbers and decimals to using fractions. But they also did a few projects. One of them was pumpkin math. Here they guessed at the weight, height, circumference, number of sections, and number of seeds of a pumpkin. Once they found out the actual information they carved a jack-o-lantern to celebrate Halloween.

Besides doing grammar in English, they played spelling games on every Friday. They also enjoyed a book called Freedom Train: The Story of Harriet Tubman and Martin Luther King, Jr.

In science the 6th graders studied many subjects: civil defense, physics, chemistry, and health. It was in health that the kids met George the Skeleton. They also took a trip to the McMillen Health Center.

Canada and Latin American were the subjects discussed in social studies. Here they learned about other people's lives from different walks of life. The kids also did many maps and various projects over these countries.

Indeed the 6th graders were kept busy this year. And surely they have also stored up knowledge to last a life time.

Elementary In Action

Exciting activities in the elementary occurred this past year such as the cross country meet where many students raced to the end. Another annual event in the elementary is the Spelling bee which several students participated in. These events made the school year go really fast and made learning fun.

The most spectacular event was where each child released a helium balloon with their name, and address. Then they let them all go to represent our school. This event was sponsored by the P.T.A.

Elementary years are sometimes rough but memorable.

Class Of 1992

Rodney Swygart, Laura Gagle, Amanda Heyerly, and Cheri Urick enjoy the track meet.

As the class of 1992 worked hard to achieve their goals and break into the world of "middle school," they were rewarded for their efforts in a few special ways the fifth-grade teachers had devised. One such was by watching an afterschool special movie until nighttime and being with your friends. Another was by having a "reading reward day," which was lots of fun for everyone involved. Hard work did pay off in the end.

It was their last year for all the recesses and the "Colonial Days," and from now on it's six periods per day. But it was still a lot of fun.

Activities Fill Year

One of the annual activities the 4th graders participated in was a Pioneer Day. It was a culminating activity for their Indian History studies. Mrs. Reynolds taught an old fashioned spinning wheel lesson and they played pioneer games and ate in Miss Mayer's history classes.

Other activities that the 4th graders participated in were cleaning up after home football games, and holding an annual Spring spelling bee contest.

Fourth graders also had several guest speakers come in to visit them in their classroom. Among them were: Mr. Kerry Uhrick, Mr. Ed Fisher and Mrs. Peggy LaFountain. All in all the 4th graders had an exciting and eventful year.

Learning Made Fun

Sometimes learning can be monotonous but this year the 3rd grade livened it up with exciting field trips.

There was a trip to Ouabache State Park for a unit on maps and nature. They also went to the Belmont Planetarium for their unit on stars.

Third graders also experienced two special units during the year. Their first unit was about The American Indians. Their second was a special Health Unit where they learned how to care for their teeth.

Third graders topped their year off with a visit to the circus. All in all, they had an exciting year.

2nd Graders Explore Units

Second grade was a new and exciting year. They learned a unit of multiplication and cursive writing, along with a World's Series of Addition and Subtraction. They had special units on Nutrition with a breakfast. Also, Dr. Fisher came in for a dental unit. Later the 2nd graders visited a fire station for their fire unit.

To finish the year, they went to the zoo in May for a very enjoyable time.

With much enthusiasm, the first graders started an exciting year. For the first time the first grade had five teachers instead of four, making classes smaller for better education. The first graders studied many different things such as phonics, counting money, insects, space, the five senses, fire prevention, and much more. The first graders also took a field trip to an apple orchard.

In the spring, the first grade stayed all night at the school, for the annual campover. This was the highlight of the year, and will be remembered by all first graders.

Kindergarteners Draw, Cut And Paste

Throughout the year the kindergarteners worked especially hard on their ABC's and their 123's. Kindergarteners were also creative in their drawing, cutting, and pasting. They made many different crafts. They studied several subjects. In the beginning of the year they learned about manners and how to treat other people. They also studied about Pilgrims, George Washington and Abe Lincoln. As the year progressed the kindergarteners became more enthusiastic about learning. They were taught opposites, sequence, vocabulary and how to write their first and last names. The kids also learned how to share and take turns; therefore, they were able to start friendships.

Kindergarten wasn't all work and no play. At the end of the year the entire class went to the Berne Park for a picnic.

After a hard, yet exciting, year, the kindergarteners will be able to look back and remember many enjoyable memories.

Zeigler, Jane 119, 161

With the start of the '84-'85 school year everyone was wondering "How is Central going to make my day?" As the year drew to a close we each had our own ideas as to just how Central had made our day. Whether it was the teachers, the faculty, or the students — Central had made our day and our year.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank all of the following people involved with the yearbook:

... To all the businesses who bought ads in our book. Without the money from your ads we wouldn't have been able to finance this yearbook.

... To Mr. Markley, our advisor. With your guidance we were able to put together this edition of the Cen-Trails.

... To Linnea Olson, Design Editor, and Robin Roe, Copy Editor. I couldn't have managed to make it through the year without the both of you. Thanks for all your hard work to make deadlines throughout the year.

... To the '84-'85 publications staff. Without you to do the layouts, we couldn't have made the deadlines.

... To Jenny Liby. We really appreciate all the time you gave up to do all the artwork for this edition of the Cen-Trails.

... To the four photographers. Without your dedication and hard work we wouldn't have had all the pictures necessary for this book.

My heart-felt thanks goes out to each and everyone of these people and to anyone else who might have contributed to this edition of the Cen-Trails in any way. I couldn't have managed without all of you. Thanks for making my day!
